

7.1.1

Women are indeed reservoirs of tremendous energy beyond doubt & chant of the era across the globe is to abolish gender discrimination & empower women, as they have every right of dignity at par with men. so in point of this women's gender equity programmes are conducted.

The government of Karnataka in a pact with the national mission of empowering women for the progress of the nation is on its toe to provide all sorts of facilities for them of which education is one of the vital priorities. In view of that, education is offered free of cost. Our institutions offer co-education but the percentage of girls' strength is more than boys. Their performance in academics is excellent than boys. The institution through KCWC & anti-ragging cell takes all initiatives to secure the girls' students on campus. A counselor appointed by the health department visits our college every fortnight to counsel our girl students.

The institutions regularly conduct gender equity promotion programmes & also create awareness among the girl students besides being more focused on academics that girl students actively participate in co-curricular activities like drawing, Rangoli applying mehendi on the palm beautician skill training etc, which helps them to live out of this after the completion of their education. The institutions also take more care of the health and hygiene of girl students by organizing seminars in which famous female doctors of the city are the resource person. Breast Feeding awareness week was also organized to educate our girl students and also their elders at home. As part of NSS activities, our girl students visit the villages nearby to educate the women there about health, hygiene & importance of child education. GFGC not only talks about gender equity but also promotes it by giving equal opportunities to the girl students to participate in NCC & sports. Our girls have added a feather to the crown of GFGC by participating in Republic day in Delhi & also participating in sports.

The Slogans “Protect Nature” & clean & green environment has made GFGC to be more committed to preserving nature. There are two main concepts in waste management.

- a) To reduce waste generation.
- b) Proper disposal of waste

The solid waste generated from all the sorts of daily activities carried out in the college consists of paper, plastics, food, glass etc. The proper disposal of solid waste is done by keeping a dustbin on each floor the workers in our college clean them daily & dispose of them in a proper method.

Liquid wastes generated by the college are

- a) Sewage waste
- b) Laboratory effluents.

The above waste is sent are sent to the septic tank & is not generated.

For e-waste management like memory chips, compact disks, cartridges etc, generated by electronic equipment the colleges have to seek permission from the head office.

7.1.9

Apart from imparting education to the student community, our institution works to develop them as better citizens of our country.

To inculcate the feeling of menness among the student and employees various programmes are organized by the Institution to create awareness about their rights, duties and responsibilities.

Indian constitution is a part of the curriculum for UG courses. The curriculum is designed in a such way that students are made aware of the Indian constitution. Every year Indian constitution Day is celebrated on 15 August; National Voter day is observed on 25th January. Our students actively participate in various activities organized by the state regarding the Indian constitution. One of our students “Manjunath Dashwanth” of B.Sc 3rd sem secured first prize in the state-level competition for the Elocution competition on the Indian constitution.
